

WILSONHALLIGAN
RECRUITMENT

Superyachts | Shoreside | Private Households

The luxury industry demands the highest quality staff, however finding someone you can trust to do an impeccable job, day in day out, is no easy task.

That is why many of the world's most prestigious yachts, maritime companies and private households trust Wilsonhalligan to do the hard work for them.

About Wilsonhalligan

Formed in 2006, Wilsonhalligan recruits for the Owners, Managers and Captains of private and chartered yachts. We also recruit for marine shoreside roles and private households.

We pride ourselves on our diligent consultants, breadth of industry knowledge and the close working relationships we form with clients and candidates alike. It is all part of our commitment to match the ideal candidates to the best jobs.

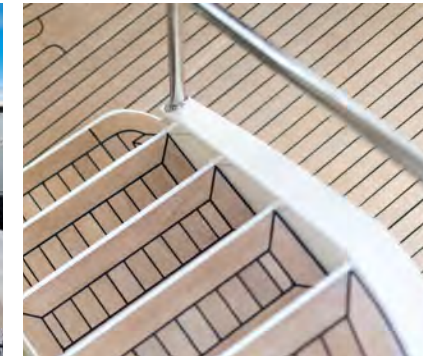

So, what sets us apart?

We know the demands of the industry

Many of our consultants have seagoing experience in their own area of responsibility. We know what each job truly entails, from Captain to Deckhand and Engineer to Chef.

We've got candidates you won't find anywhere else

Wilsonhalligan holds an exclusive database of the highest calibre candidates with skillsets to suit all manner of roles. Importantly, many of these candidates register only with us, because we've worked with them throughout their career and they trust us to find them the best job.

Our Aim

We aim to provide a personal recruitment consultancy service which embodies professionalism based on quality standards, ethical practices and integrity. Exceptional service is provided to clients and candidates, equally.

Our Commitment

We are committed to protecting clients' interests by providing a discreet and trusted service to meet their requirements and expectations. This is accomplished by implementing and meeting standards of quality management in line with ISO 9001.

Our Policy

It is our policy to meet and exceed the changing needs of our clients, candidates and appropriate statutory authorities through the continued positive development and training of our staff.

We are skilled at matching people to roles

Work with us and you get more than just a database. Our diligent consultants develop a thorough understanding of our clients' needs, our candidates' ambitions and what every role demands.

This not only ensures we match experience and skills to a job but for seafaring roles, it means we can be confident their personality will fit in with the crew already on board.

Getting to know our clients and candidates is something we love to do and our lines of communication are always open. We like to meet up face-to-face, chat regularly over the phone, stay in touch via email and social media and spend time catching up at events.

Sharing our knowledge

We believe in bringing people together and sharing knowledge, for the betterment of the industry as a whole.

That is why you'll find us organising workshops about mental health at sea, presenting about our own seafaring experiences and leading crew wellness classes. We also organise luxury catered events for Captains, as well as fun socials to bring yacht crew together.

Nurturing industry talent

We love to help anyone who is interested in starting their dream yachting career. We offer detailed advice to prospective candidates and we work closely with partners including UKSA and Warsash Superyacht Academy, recommending individuals for training and supporting them through interviews.

Giving something back

We know this is an affluent industry and we believe in giving back where we can. For many years we have been ambassadors for Superyacht Charities, which generates vital funding for seafaring causes.

Our Managing Director Liam Dobbin is an official Trustee for Superyacht Charities, to help oversee its valuable work. We also support Yacht Crew Help, a charity created to aid mental health and provide practical guidance to crew.

Shoreside

Our shoreside department covers a broad range of maritime recruitment for the cruise and yacht industry helping to secure talent for businesses working worldwide.

We have a broad portfolio of clients from leading yacht management companies to small and medium size enterprises. We also work with yacht builders, brokerage houses, refit yards and suppliers of luxury goods.

Our team has a wealth of experience placing both candidates looking to move ashore as well as those with previous land-based experience. For senior roles we will be looking outside the yacht world for talent coming from other relevant industries.

Private Household

Our private household department covers a range of recruitment services from private villas, luxury chalets to stately homes.

We have branched into private households to cater to the demands of yacht owners requesting our services to also help them staff their shoreside residences.
